Who we are

Founded in 1983, Gail Materials has proudly served California as a trusted provider of specialty soil blends and construction materials. What began as a family-owned trucking company has evolved into a leading name in the production of high-quality materials — always rooted in a deep commitment to craftsmanship, reliability, and service.

Today, under new ownership, that same dedication lives on. With a track record spanning 30+ years in relationship-building and cultivating synergistic partnerships across the industry and in launching and scaling businesses into multi-million dollar ventures. Our new leadership brings fresh energy, industry insight, and a relentless drive to improve with each passing day.

Together with our talented team, we remain focused on delivering consistent, high-performing materials tailored to meet the unique needs of every project.

At Gail Materials, we honor the legacy of those who built this company — and we're excited to shape its future with the same passion, purpose, and pride.

Gail Materials, Inc. is the nationwide leader in specialty soil blends, supporting projects of every size—from local family-owned businesses to the country's largest brands. With decades of expertise, innovative blends, and a commitment to quality, we deliver soil solutions that help landscapes thrive across every corner of the industry.
